River Cleanup Study Group Is Formed

By Fred E. Garrett
Saginaw Press Staff Writer

GRAYLING — "Let's get mad!" That was the battle cry as "Operation AuSable" moved into high gear with the launching of the AuSable River Watershed Study Council here Tuesday night.

Officially, the two-county group (Roscommon-Crawford) elected officers of 1967-68 and discussed problems facing the ARWSC. The group, made up of 27 governmental officials, service club and business representatives, and interested citizens, was mobilized to meet problems of pollution and waste along the AuSable River. The threat to the AuSable, one of the world's great trout streams, was detailed in a series published this summer in the Saginaw News.

Howard C. Raimer, Michigan United Conservation Club official from Grand Rapids, started some rapid-fire conversation by saying "Let's get to be angry citizens. Let's get something done."

Raimer, appointed spokesman for the MUCC's more than 65,000 members by MUCC President James Roman, said that the MUCC pledged its support to the ARWSC, which, Raimer said, was "setting a precedent" for Michigan's conservation-minded citizens. "All of Michigan is behind you," he said.

Thomas W. Alder, visiting representative of the Upper Manistee River Conservation Association, and C.C. Walker and David C. Pray, representatives of the East Jordan River Conservation Association, all suggested exchanging ideas between their associations and ARWSC as a means for helping all concerned.

Henry Verberkmoes of Roscommon, interim chairman of the ARWSC, was elected chairman for 1967-68. He is a member of the Roscommon Board of Supervisors and is principal of Gerrish-Higgins High School, Roscommon.

Bernard J. Fowler, Grayling Township supervisor and chairman of the Crawford County Board of Supervisors, was elected vice chairman. Mrs. Basil Hubbell, acting representative for Higgins Township, Roscommon County, was elected secretary-treasurer.

The Council voted to permit the ARWSC's three officials to appoint chairmen to the Council's four major committees: Water Quality, Land Use, Water Use, and Public Relations and Communications.

Charles A. Fellows of Flint Council representative for Trout Unlimited, said "There's a lot for every committee and subcommittee to get their teeth into. We've got to get people here to realize why people downstate are getting excited by pollution problems. Those downstate people already have run into such problems and they don't want to see the state's entire conservation program destroyed needlessly."

Fowler, the vice chairman, said Grayling's City Council and Township Board had given the ARWSC permission to offer suggestions for any-strip zoning—commercial or residential—along the river. "We have been approached by area people for such ordinances. But the council and the board took no action pending suggestions from the Land Use Committee of the ARWSC," he said.

Grayling City Manager Harold S. Cliff answered questions about the chemical testing program being conducted by the Dow Chemical Co. Midland in the river in the Grayling area.

"A lot of data had been taken the past three months in those tests. Unofficially, reports say that an average of 70 per cent of the phosphates and solid waste matter in the river are being destroyed," he said.

"But the official report from the Michigan Department of Public Health and Dow will not be ready until early October. And we think correlation of reports from this and other tests in Michigan will be more meaningful," Cliff said.

One problem with ARWSC's membership roster was noted by an interim Council member, Lt. Col. Clyde Borchers, (U.S. Army, ret.) who lives in Lake Margrethe, a hamlet southwest of Grayling.

Borchers said despite recent ARWSC pressure that only two of the nine townships directly (See River Study on Page 8).

BERNARD J. FOWLER (seated, left), Grayling Township Supervisor and chairman of the Crawford County Board of Supervisors, checks progress of action against pollution and waste on the AuSable River by the AuSable River Watershed Study Council. Fowler recently was elected vice-chairman of the ARWSC in a meeting at Grayling. Mrs. Basil Hubbell of Roscommon, ARWSC secretary-treasurer, is showing Fowler the progress reports. Looking on are, left to right: Thomas W. Alder of the Upper Manistee River Association; David C. Pray of the East Jordan River Association; Charles A. Fellows of Flint, Trout Unlimited representative on the ARWSC; Howard C. Raimer of Grand Rapids, Michigan United Conservation Club representative, and Harold S. Cliff, Grayling City Manager.

Postal Services Highlighted During September in County

Postmaster James Post announced today that Postal Services is being observed throughout the county during the month of September.

The Grayling Post Office will participate in the event by the delivery of Zip-A-List cards to each household.

Delivery will be made on Thursday and Friday, Sept. 28 and 29 to each patron in the city with spaces for the addresses you wish to have zip-coded.

Each completed card will be sent to the post office which services the address needing a zip code. There the proper five digit number will be added before the form is returned to the sender. Enclosed will also be a form showing our local zip number.

People living on the Rural Routes will receive their kits of Zip-A-List on October 2nd. For those who wish additional kits, they will be available at the post office.

For the records, Postmaster Post gave the Avalanche a little background on the postal services here in Crawford County.

James E. Corbet was the first P.M. when it was established on January 19, 1874. Since then 17 have held the position to date.

At present, there are 12 full time employees and two substitutes. Gross stamp sales receipts for the fiscal year 1967 were $140,000.00.

During a recent postal inspection our building and grounds were given an excellent rating, Post said. The present building was built in 1937.

Fall Recreation and Sportsman's Activities In Crawford County

Late August frosts and dry September weather have made conditions ideal for the opening of upland game hunting and archery enthusiasts looking for whitetails.

Partridge hunters should have fair hunting success this year. Partridge are up in our area over last year, and a goodly number of coveys are being seen. Birds had good nesting conditions and coveys marked are near maturity.

Woodcock hunters will have excellent shooting in the AuSable lowlands, with best hunting along tributaries of the AuSable Watershed and in Tag Alder thickets scattered throughout the county.

Archery enthusiasts out for deer will have a banner year. Because of the mild winter the hold over of the deer herd was good, and the fawn crop was up this spring. Observations of qualified game in our region show the deer herd well scattered throughout the range. The apple crop and acorn crop are down from last year and deer will be frequenting the orchards and oak ridges as they did last year.

The wet summer has kept pot-holes full of water and hunters will have fair success on local ducks in these areas scattered throughout the county. The Upper Manistee River and AuSable River should provide good hunting for ducks, using the canoeing trails of the county on which to hunt.

Grayling's annual Carnival of Color, scheduled for October 6, 7, and 8, is expected to highlight the peak of the color season in our region. Color tours on County roads have been marked, pontoon boat rides on Lake Margrethe are being provided for, and of course there will be no better way of viewing nature's color palette than to use the miles of canoeing trails of the AuSable River and Upper Manistee River. Many interesting events have been planned for the visitors in our area.

October 27 was named as the date for a general meeting with a panel discussion on the subject of the fragility of trout streams. Prominent guest biologists will attend to lead the discussion, and a special Trout Unlimited film will be shown.

LOSE TO GAYLORD 16-0

Vikings Play Charlevoix Rayders There, This Friday Night, 8 p.m.

In a hard fought game last Friday evening, the Grayling Vikings were defeated by Gaylord 16-0.

Except for a couple of lapses on defense that allowed Gaylord to complete passes for long yardage, the game was a defensive battle between the 20 yard lines.

Coach Wieland stated that this week's practice would stress mostly on pass defense and to work on the offensive team.

He also stated he expected next week's foe, the Charlevoix Rayders, to do quite a bit of passing as they have two good quarterbacks plus good receivers.

Charlevoix squeaked by Boyne City last Friday by a 13-12 margin, so it appears the Vikings will have their work cut out for them. Boyne was considered the pre-season pick for the league championship.

In other games Harbor Springs blasted Pellston 34 to 7 and Mancelona defeated East Jordan 29-6. Gaylord scored their two TD's in the first half, the first in the initial quarter on a pass play that covered 50 yards, from Johnson to Fedor. In the second quarter, a pass from Johnson to Hird set up a TD from the three yard line with Johnson taking it over on a keeper.

The other scoring was in the final quarter when Gaylord got two safeties. The first was a bad pass from center when Grayling was forced to punt from the end zone. The balls sailed out of the field of play.

With a little over a minute to play Gaylord had the ball on Grayling's two yard line, where they fumbled, Hartman recovered for Grayling. On the next play the Vikings' quarterback was tackled in the end zone at attempting to pass.

Coach Wieland said that it appears that Doug Wilson may be lost for the Charlevoix game, he was injured in the Gaylord game and was still on crutches the first of the week.

Mike Smock, Dave Bailey, Chauncey Carr and John Hunter played outstanding games on defense.

Other conference games for this Friday will have Mancelona at Pellston, Harbor Springs at East Jordan and Grayling at Boyne City.

The Grayling JV's have a home game with the Houghton Lake JV's this Thursday, Sept. 28 at 7:30 p.m. (See JV story on page 8).

Janet Swide Bride of William Trowbridge
Following their marriage Saturday September 9th at Mt. Hope Lutheran Church, Allen Park, Mr. and Mrs. William Charles Trowbridge departed for a honeymoon in Canada. The bride is the former Janet Ann Swide. Officiating at the double-ring ceremony was the Reverend R. C. Puffer of Indian River, the bridegroom's grandfather. White carnations and baby's breath decorated the altar.

The new Mrs. Trowbridge is the daughter of Mrs. John Swide of Allen Park and the late John Swide. Mr. and Mrs. Maxwell Davenport of Grayling are stepfather and mother of the bridegroom, an Ann Arbor resident. Seed pearls accented the bride's floor-length gown of white silk linen and Alencon lace. The contoured bodice featured elbow length sleeves and a bateau neckline. A two-tiered bustle and a cathedral train enhanced the skirt. Three tiers of rosebud petals adorned with lace secured the bride's shoulder-length veil. She carried a bouquet of lilies and ivy.

Maid of honor Helen Schoenhals of Southfield wore a floor-length gown of strawberry silk linen with fitted bodice, portrait neckline and cap sleeves. Her headpiece was a matching bow and net. Vicki Wells—James Bedard Wed at St. Mary's St. Mary's Church was the scene of the September 16th wedding of Miss Vicki Lynn Wells and James V. Bedard. The one o'clock ceremony was performed by the Reverend Father William McKnight, and the nuptial High Mass by Father Louis Ivandic, O.F.M. St. Mary's Junior Choir sang and Miss Nancy Hanson presided at the organ. White gladioli and carnation sprays decorated the church, and during the ceremony Vicki placed a miniature version of her bouquet on the Blessed Mother's altar. Vicki is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Perry Wells of 606 Chestnut Street, Grayling, Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Bedard of Allen Park are father and stepmother of the bridegroom.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride approached the altar in a floor-length gown carrying a cascade of white roses and carnations with ivy. A delicate Alencon lace flounce molded the traditional bodice to the waistline, the individual flower motifs embroidered in seed pearls. The slim graceful skirt of peau de soie was enhanced with scattered lace medallions. A circular chapel length train was gathered in soft pleats at the back. Her shoulder-length illusion veil fell from a crown of white peau de soie roses and lace petals with pearl and borealis accents.

Mrs. Duane Sloan was matron of honor. She was gowned in full-length clear blue chiffon over lace. A floral headpiece held her matching blue veil. Bridesmaids were Karen Anthony and Carol Miller, who wore ensembles of clear aqua blue identical to Mrs. Sloan's.

Little Miss Ann Marie Sloan, flower girl, was attired in a long white dress of nylon, styled with puffed sleeves edged with blue lace. With it she wore a white nylon net veil held by a blue-flowered headpiece.

Attendants of the bridegroom were Captain Duane Sloan as best man, James Grohoski and Jack Rasmussen. Their attire was afternoon tuxedos of white jackets, black trousers and cummerbunds, and black bow ties. Timothy Sloan was ringbearer, in navy blue cardigan jacket and trousers, white shirt, black bow tie and knee socks.

For her daughter's wedding Mrs. Wells chose an alabaster suit with plum accessories. Mrs. Bedard wore a blue sheath dress with black accessories.

Consumers Not Idiots

Political activity as a cover up for inflation, the sugarcoated phrase "Consumer Protection" on the ridiculous. It has been charged, for example, that advertising increases the price of goods and hampers competition. But, no mention is made of the fact without advertising many of today's products would not be in every home or that volume sales result of advertising actually reduce prices for consumers in a free market.

Retailers, distributors, consumers, manufacturers and public authorities will cooperate in formulating adequate codes and controlling with product truth and safety. There are many protective laws and regulations governing these things. But, consumers after all are not idiots. The vast majority are highly literate, discriminating shoppers taking pride in their ability to get the value of their purchases. They do not need a dose of legislation to help them identify labeling or packaging. They prefer the choice of a free market to the stereotypical conformity and scarcity that would be the result of thorough-going consumer protection. Any endeavor to blame producers and retailers for price increases caused by the extravagance of government is a trick to play on consumers.

INTERESTING ITEMS OF NEWS GATHERED FROM THE FILES OF THE AVALANCHE OF 23 YEAR AGO

Sept. 28, 1944

September 20, 1944, Mr. O. P. Schumann, Editor, Crawford Avalanche, Grayling, Michigan, Dear Sir: We, the officers and crew of the Steamer Horace Johnson, have ascertained that Mr. Burke's story of the size and quality of "The Monarch" giant pine tree cut on the Ward estate, is correct. The matter was taken up with a noted historian of Detroit, former resident and business lady of Frederic. The facts and all data pertaining to this giant pine tree, as obtained from the Michigan History Magazine, issue of the Winter 1944, in an article entitled "Edward, the Ghost Town." The magazine is published quarterly by the Michigan Historical Commission at Lansing, Michigan. In closing, may we call attention to a correction which should be made in our letter of Sept. 5, 1944, published in the September 14 issue of the Avalanche. Referring to question concerning rising of water, it should have read: "He was asked the other day if he heard of the water level at Marquette on Lake Superior rising six feet," etc. Please be informed that this "seiche" did not occur on Lake Marquette, but on Lake Superior at Marquette. Thanking you, we are Yours truly, Officers and Crew of the Steamer Horace Johnson, Sault Ste. Marie, Mich.

Charles Long announces he has purchased the Melichar building on U.S. 27, formerly owned and used by Charles Melichar for his bakery business. Long expects to occupy the building during the latter part of October. He is now negotiating for a baker to carry on the bakery business, which Long will operate as well as his meat market. At present, he conducts a meat market in the property known as the Harwood Building which was recently bought by Mrs. Sarah Bohmeyer. We understand that Melichar plans to remain in Grayling.

Robert Hayes and several friends from Alma left Wednesday for the Upper Peninsula, to do some bird hunting.

readers good news coverage of the affairs in which they might be interested. It is this, we are sure, that accounts for this splendid growth. There are several present subscribers who were on the subscription list under our former editor, the late Dr. Palmer. Among them are Robert and Paul Ziebell, the Hanson and Olson families, and many others. Dr. Palmer, besides being editor of the Avalanche was a graduate of Georgetown University, and a Captain in the Medical Corps during the Civil War. Also he practiced law and was Prosecuting Attorney of Crawford County for 22 years. Having no children, Mr. and Mrs. Palmer provided 4-year high school education for 25 boys and girls, taking them into their home, providing them with lodging, board, books, clothing, spending money, and seeing to it that they graduated. Besides all this, Dr. Palmer established a school for local Finnish adults, with the purpose of acquainting them with our government and our laws. He provided textbooks and secured a teacher from Houghton, U.P., and paid all the costs. We have the most sincere appreciation for the splendid service our several correspondents have contributed to the columns of the Avalanche. Without their kindly contributions, many of our readers would have missed the interesting news of their communities.

Our employees — we wish we could have a group picture of all who have toiled on the Avalanche. It would be quite an army to look at. Many have been here for several years. They are entitled to a lot of credit for the success of the Avalanche. We sincerely thank them all, and wish to add that it has been a real treat to enjoy such loyal, cordial and pleasant associations. It leaves us with many pleasant reminiscences.

We are proud to report that Pfc. Shirley M. Corsaut of Frederic, a rifleman, son of Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Corsaut, is a member of an Infantry rifle company that has received a Division Citation for outstanding performance of duty in combat on Hill 129, Bougainville Island. Counter attacking in close combat that included the use of supporting artillery, the "attacking forces, advancing under heavy Japanese fire, destroyed the enemy's installations, annihilated his personnel, and completely restored the American position." the citation by Major General Robert S. Beightler, 37th Division Commander, reads in part: "Starting his third year overseas, serving also in Fiji, New Hebrides and Guadalcanal. Pfc. Corsaut, has been awarded the Soldiers' Good Conduct Medal and Combat Infantryman Badge."

Born — to Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Owen on September 24, a son, Gerald LeRoy.

Miss Ernestine Stephan, who is a student at Bay City Business College, spent the weekend here. Mr. and Mrs. Harley Russell announce the arrival of a son Gary Gern, at their home in Bay City. The baby was born August 26 and weighed 8 pounds, 8 ounces.

Mr. and Mrs. John Malling, who purchased the Grayling Greenhouse some time ago, recently sold it to the owner of the greenhouse in West Branch. It is being torn down and moved to that city.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Kuntar of Waukegan, Illinois spent the past two weeks visiting the latter parents, Mr. and Mrs. Jonas Wirtanen. They accompanied Mrs. Roy Kannisto and son Brian home, the latter two returning from Texas after spending four months there with their husband and father.

Conservation Officer and Mrs. Jerry Larke of Brimley, Upper Peninsula, were in Grayling the first part of the week on business matters, also visiting the parents of Mrs. Larke, Mr. and Mrs. Adam Gierke. They report fishing in Lake Superior as being great, so far as Great Northern pike are concerned, and the fishing in general in the U.P. being A-1.

For several weeks negotiations have been going on between Clare Madsen, local lumber and shingle manufacturer, and Timberland, Inc., of Connersville, Indiana, for the purchase of the Madsen interest and the formation of a local organization for its operation. Madsen has conducted a highly successful business here, and under his able management it has grown from a one-man job to one employing a score or more men. He has been made a stockholder in the new organization and will be the manager. Besides the Madsen interest, 11,000 acres of timber land have been acquired in the region of Mud Lake, about 10 miles east of Grayling. Madsen says there is enough mature timber in the tract to keep their mills running for five years, and more will mature annually. Furthermore, that cuttings will be conducted with the idea of perpetual growth, and as fast as timber is cut, that area will be replanted. The Madsen mill will be moved to Mud Lake and a larger and more modern mill will be erected there. Delmar Dodge of Connersville is president of the company. Clare says the name, Mud Lake, has been changed to the more dignified title of "Wakeley Lakes."

to the Editor

We of the community of Grayling pass along a "thank you" to Jerry McEvers for the job he has done in renovating his building. He is modernizing the building, and the third business building in Grayling this summer to be modernized, and should give the community a great sense of pride.

Two Local People Attend G.O.P. Convo

Leo Lovely, Chairman of the Crawford County Republican Committee, and Matilda Bishop, Secretary, attended the All-Michigan Conference of Republican leaders on Mackinac Island last week.

Over 700 party members met at the Grand Hotel to review scores of involvement programs and to streamline efforts to provide research into community problems with the idea of identifying these problems and finding solutions for them.

A film showing the work done at the Detroit Neighborhood Community Action Center at 333 Woodward Avenue inspired all present. Meaningful communications between those needing help and those who could help them made the Involvement Program effective and respected.

A highlight of the meeting was the presentation of awards to individuals and groups throughout the state for outstanding contributions to the Involvement Program.

Our Crawford County delegates had interesting conferences with most of our state and national representatives.

The Grayling delegates paid all their own expenses as a contribution to the party.

Camp AuSable Activities

The weekend camp of August 15-17 made a record for attendance at Camp AuSable. Over 400 people attended the special meetings held on Saturday. The majority of them came from the upper section of the lower peninsula. This is District Two of the Michigan Conference of Seventh-day Adventists.

Sabbath school and the worship services were held in the Chapel in the Woods. The leader and superintendent for this group is Elder D. B. Myers of Traverse City.

The campout began Friday evening, at which time Harold Jewkes presented a color slide picture program, with organ music, on the Four Seasons. Two nature hikes were conducted on Saturday afternoon. At four o'clock the group gathered in the lodge for a musical program titled "Drama of the Ages."

A canoe trip down the AuSable river on Sunday climaxed the activities for the group. A School Camp or Field School is being conducted this week at Camp AuSable. Twenty-three students in grades 7 and 8 with their teacher Arnold Farenick have come from the Pontiac Seventh-day Adventist Academy. With them also are six ladies who are assistant instructors, counselors, and cooks.

The daily time table includes the following school subjects: mathematics, Bible, English, spelling, science, and socials. The program includes also morning watch, prayer bands, and an evening camp fire. The students will be on the nature trails for science and social studies. One project is the collecting of leaves for tree identification. Time is also provided for recreation, writing letters and study.

Visitors and observers are Elder Ben Butcherus the Educational superintendent and Miss Frances Clark, elementary supervisor. Elder L.C. Caviness, youth director for the state, is also expected to visit. The group will return to Pontiac-Friday.

CARD OF THANKS
We wish to thank Dr. Blaha, the nurses and the staff of Mercy Hospital for the wonderful care given to Ora Hinton and to the many friends who sent flowers. The family of Ora Hinton Rambler American. The only U.S. car that could stop you from buying an import.

At a price very close to the leading import, the American seats six people instead of four.

It gives you nearly twice as much room in the trunk and more than twice as much engine under the hood.

Like the imports, the American doesn't change its style every year, gets about 20 miles on a gallon of regular gas.

Unlike some imports, it never gives you the feeling that you're driving a toy.

Robot. America's most underrated car.

The Rebel 550 Hardtop is the lowest priced intermediate sized hardtop in America.

It looks sporty, drives sporty and still gives you all the things that most people buy a car for.

The Rebel-Hardtop, Wagon, Sedan or Convertible, 'V8 or 6—is everything we think a car should be. Before you pay more for an intermediate, make sure you get as much.

Ambassador. The car with air conditioning as standard equipment.

Air conditioning has been around for a long time, but so far only a few companies—the people who make

Rolls Royce for one—have had the good sense to include it in their cars at no extra cost.

We're another.

We just don't understand why someone should be asked to pay a lot of money for a luxury car and then be asked to pay over $300 more for the luxury of air conditioning.

Introducing the Javelin.

Although we've always had the reputation for making sensibly priced, well-built cars, we've never had the reputation for making hot, sporty cars.

We'll soon have the reputation for making hot, sporty cars.

The front and rear bumpers on the Javelin are massive. Unlike thin blade bumpers, these give the car a rich, racy look.

The side windows on the Javelin are solid sheets of curved glass, without vents to break up its fast lines.

The Javelin SST comes with wheel discs, special exterior trim, reclining bucket seats and a woodgrain steering wheel, all standard.

And all for a lower price than the other sporty hardtops.

BOWL for the fun of it...

At a special legal meeting of the Crawford AuSable School District Board of Education, July 31st, 1967, the following resolution for negotiation was adopted on motion by Robert Smock, seconded by James Kolka, carried by all ayes:

WHEREAS the wage proposal for a 5% compounded raise with individual hospitalization is a great deal over the anticipated income available for salaries and

Whereas the wage proposal presented by the teachers would require either a millage vote which cannot legally be arranged before the starting date of school, September 5, 1967 or a reduction in services to students:

THEREFORE BE IT RESOLVED THAT THE Board of Education of the Crawford AuSable School District has offered a contract to the teachers to include the wage schedule of 4% compounded wage increase plus the individual hospitalization voted by the board in April. This is an average increase of over $1,000 per teacher for this school year.

INTERPRETING THE NEWS

Waterfront Conservation

Debris. Pollution. Stagnation. Stench. These steps rapidly turn beautiful lakes and rivers into smelly, unsightly cesspools. Communities once proud of their attractive waterfronts now see all sorts of rubbish crowd out green and wooded shoreline. Sparkling blue water becomes sluggish and brown.

But forward-looking communities can deal with such conditions. Public-spirited citizens can restore and maintain original beauty through community cooperation.

The city of Owosso, using local volunteer labor, has completed now its second annual cleanup of 3 1/2 miles of Shiawassee River shoreline.

An editorial in the Owosso Argus-Press on May 7, 1965, pointed out that the city's "Cleanup Week" might include improving the appearance of the Shiawassee River.

Nothing was done that year, but in July of 1966 the Shiawassee River Assn. proposed a community-wide river cleanup. The city proclaimed July 30-31 Owosso "River Days" and under the leadership of local attorney James S. Minor, citizens rolled up their sleeves.

Businesses and the Argus-Press promoted throughout the month, and more than 500 persons turned out to restore charm and cleanliness to the river and shoreline.

The city supplied a bulldozer to deepen the river and level riverbed "humps." City and privately-owned trucks were used to haul away junk and debris. Refreshments and food were furnished to workers by residents living along the river. Teenage workers outnumbered adults. Crews cleared more than a mile of riverbank as the first step toward building a riverside walkway from the east city limits to downtown.

Participation was strong again this year. Following last year's turnout there was speculation that citizens would lose interest in future cleanups. However, about 150 people showed up August 12-13 to continue the improvement program.

"We had fewer people this year, but we didn't need as many," Minor commented. "We got twice as much junk from the river last year, and it appears that Owosso residents have learned not to use the river as a dumping ground."

The city has increased enforcement of anti-litter laws. Police and residents have become highly sensitive to offenders throwing trash into the water.

Benefits of waterfront improvement are numerous. Restoration of natural beauty, water conservation, increased property values and expansion of community park and recreation facilities can result. And such a community effort brings a feeling of community accomplishment and pride.

The idea has already caught on in other parts of Shiawassee County. It may start a trend.

$29 Million Problem

Resort owners along Lake Michigan can expect next year's alewife problem to be as bad this year, according to Dr. Wayne Tody, chief of the Michigan Fishery Division, Department of Conservation.

In 1967, miles of sandy beaches were covered with dead alewife, an almost useless fish about the size of a herring.

Most effective control over exploding alewife population is introducing of millions of coho smelts (Pacific salmon) to the Great Lakes. Salmon find alewife tasty meals upon which to multiply, Dr. Tody points out.

However, at the rate Michigan is producing the smelt control may never be reached. Three to four million smelts can be hatched each year under present facilities, he notes.

Long-term goals call for 45 million smelts; 30 million from hatcheries and 15 million from natural hatching in Michigan streams.

The problem is financing. Some Federal funds are available on a match-money basis, but the entire project is estimated at $29,500,000. The lion's share would have to be financed with state monies since there is a ceiling on Federal participation.

If financing were made available this fiscal year, it would still be 1975 before full effects of the project would be felt, Dr. Tody said.

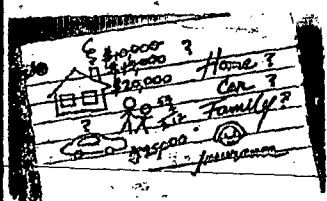

The solution to the problem rests with the people. Legislators respond to constituents. If the people wish to eliminate alewife littering beaches, clogging water intake lines and depressing more desirable species of fish they must make their wishes known.

BITS O' TALK

Mr. and Mrs. Roy Boone had their company Wednesday to Monday of last week. Mr. and Mrs. George Franklin and Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Baker of Memphis, Missouri. Mrs. Franklin is Mrs. Boone's sister. Saturday, a niece and nephew, Mr. and Mrs. Milo Franklin visited them.

Mrs. Jack Mason drove her son Mike to Massachusetts Tuesday of last week, where he entered Cranwell School at Lenox.

Cpl. Andy Canfield, who is still in Thailand, has moved to a new location three hundred miles north of his present base. He is getting along fine and will be home in two months. His parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Canfield Jr. are very happy to hear this.

Mr. and Mrs. Mac Stearns of Perrysburg, Ohio, visited the Stan Berrys Tuesday night of last week.

Mr. and Mrs. William Larush attended a convention in Grand Rapids Friday to Sunday.

Stiffer Pinch Put On Deer Poachers

LANSING — The price of deer poaching is much steeper under a new law which tacks onto regular fines and court costs a special reimbursement penalty covering the value of wildlife illegally taken.

Compared with previous years when many violators got off with wrist-slapping, these game cheaters are now paying an extra reimbursement fee ranging per animal from $200 to $300 for elk, $100 to $200 for deer and $5 to $10 for small game and waterfowl.

Among those feeling the pinch under these added mandatory rates is Roger J. Sherman, 20, of McBain who last week was hit with the maximum $200 penalty for each of three deer illegally in his possession.

Sherman, who was tracked down when county officers found deer hair and blood in his automobile, was also fined $100 and ordered to pay $18 in court costs by Justice Louis Cook of Manton. Conservation officers seized his late model car in which the deer were transported.

Sherman's arrest and subsequent court appearances brought out information involving three other persons who now await trial.

Conservation Department Law Chief John A. Anguilm says that damages leveled against Sherman are the stiffest he can ever remember. He adds: "More and more, our courts seem to be recognizing that heavy penalties must be imposed for such flagrant game law violations. Anyone who tries this sort of thing can also count on receiving the full thrust of our law enforcement effort."

The Rasmus Rasmussen family reunion was held at the V.F.W. Hall in Holly on September 10th with 35 members attending. Two 4-generation families were present. A potluck dinner was served and both children and adults took part in various games throughout the day-long affair. Highlight of the day was a modern dance put on by Mrs. Elvira Cregue (the former Elvira Rasmussen) complete with "fall" and miniskirt. Mrs. Ernest Duvall of Monroe the former Ingrid Jorgenson of Grayling, was a guest. Those attending were from Alpena, Lansing, Detroit, Mt. Clemens, Dearborn, Caro, Waterford, Union Lake, Utica, Bad Axe and Holly. Mrs. Else Andersen of Grayling was also present.

The Kenneth Ashtons visited Bois Blanc Island Wednesday of last week. On Friday they went to Flint to spend the weekend with her son the William Faircloth family. They returned to Onaway to remain while the weather remains favorable.

Dan Canfield of Grayling raised his winnings to $183 on Friday the 15th as he successfully defended his title as "King of the Hill" at the weekly bowling matches at Cherven Lanes. Dan defeated Terry Beutler in a real close match in the finals as Terry held a lead going into the 8th frame but a miss in the 8th and a double by Canfield made it necessary for Terry to double in the 10th as Canfield had already finished. Terry got the first strike but a solid 10 pin kept him from the double and Canfield was the winner by a margin of 5 pins. The 8 men making the finals were Ben Garland, Ed Cherven, Terry Beutler, George Cousineau, Byron Sisco, George Henning of Roscommon, Lyle White of Houghton Lake and Pete Latusek of Grayling. Low score to qualify last week was a handicap series of 490 with the top qualifying score of 645.

Viking J.V.'s Defeat Gaylord 33-0

By Dave Wyss

The Grayling J.V.'s won an overwhelming victory over the Gaylord Blue Devils Tuesday night at Gaylord.

The Vikings wasted no time in scoring, after recovering a fumble they scored on their first play of the game on a run by Dale Papendick and Dave Holmes made the conversion.

On Gaylord's third play after receiving the kick-off Grayling's Mike Kucharek intercepted a pass and Holmes threw to Larry Stephenson for the TD, the conversion attempt was missed.

Later in the first quarter the Vikings were on the move again, from deep in their own territory Papendick found a hole and made a fifteen yard run. A 65-yard pass and run from Holmes to Stephenson made it 19 to 0. Kucharek made the conversion for a 20 to 0 lead at the end of the first quarter.

The second quarter was highlighted by a recovered fumble and two penalties against Grayling. With 59 seconds left Grayling threatened but the Viking line held for a 20 to 0 half-time lead.

With Gaylord out for revenge in the 2nd half the going got tough. Gaylord recovered a fumble but the mighty Viking line proved its strength by holding off the Gaylord attack to a scoreless third quarter.

The Gaylord line hampered by injuries just couldn't hold the Vikings in the fourth quarter. Papendick scored but the conversion attempt failed. With seconds left Grayling was on the move again with a touchdown by Holmes and a conversion by Burkett.

The gun went off and Grayling secured a 33 to 0 victory.

The most valuable player elected by the students was Papendick. Other outstanding players were Holmes; Cy Wakely, Kucharek, Stephenson and Burkett.

Wednesday evening Loretta Williams took her mother Mrs. Norman Johnston to Traverse City where they attended the stork shower for their granddaughter and niece, Mrs. Nancy Rowe.

Dan Canfield of Grayling continued as the "King of the Hill" at the weekly bowling matches at Cherven lanes in Roscommon on Friday Night. Dan set a torrid pace as he started with a spare then struck thru the 7th frame, then after a wash-out he struck out of a 250 actual count to defeat Terry Dawson, who rolled a 166 game. Making the finals this week were Ed Cherven, Howard Gentry, Ben Garland, Lyle White, Byron Sisco, George Cousineau, Pete Latusek and Terry Dawson with the low to qualify being a handicap total of 562. Interest is picking up in the event and we are looking for a crowd this week.

affected by the AuSable River had taken action against pollution by calling for enforcement of Michigan Public Act 200.

He said that the only townships calling for adoption of Act 200 were Grayling and Lovells.

Absent were representatives from Beaver Creek, Frederic, Maple Forest and South Branch townships in Crawford County. Representatives from Richfield Township (St. Helens) and AuSable Township in Roscommon County were also missing.

Fowler commenting on a recent discussion with Dr. Laverne Carey of the Michigan State University Extension Center at East Lansing, said the ARWSC would be able to make use of expert help from the Schools of Natural Resources both at MST and at Central Michigan University, Mount Pleasant.

Mention also was made of possible assistance from Mid-Michigan Community College between Harrison and Clare when it opens in the fall of 1968.

"We are testing septic tanks in the Grayling area with dyes. But the tests are visual. Some expert help would be appreciated," Fowler said.

Fowler read a letter from Dr. Herbert L. Allison, fish pathologist for the Michigan Department of Public Health, Lansing, that said local governmental units could pass certain laws in regard to waters "if those laws are reasonable and not run contrary to state laws."

The state, according to Dr. Allison, controls the following actions in regard to waters: dredging, erection of platforms and the like, filling of water areas, evacuation for boat slips, use of river waters for replenishing ponds, and actions which might alter the courses of flowing waters. "Most other water laws can be passed by local authorities," the letter said.
